Dec 14 2022 BOPtrains their people to be correctional workers not law enforcement officers. I've seen BOPcreds and you don't need anything more than that. Try to make an arrest you're not trained for that and have extremely limited authority

If an arrest is made on prison grounds it's the USMS FBI or OIG Apr 6 2015 FirstBOP does not have an Academy. You attend the Intro to Corrections Course at Glynco and it is only 3 weeks long. They are way behind so most staff are not attending until 6-8 month time frame

You will work like normal until you attend the only difference is until you get through Glynco you CAN NOT work any armed posts Tower Perimeter etc and you ARE NOT qualified to carry off duty Apr 24 2017 Mike TheBOP is unlike most corrections positions

Officers are commissioned and receive full federal law enforcement salary and retirement. Staff fall under H.R. 218 LEOSA and can carry in all 50 U.S. states because of their law enforcement status

The agency also has investigative units that conduct formal investigations into criminal activity at each respective institution and whom May 3 2020 TheBOP is very stingy with pay compared to other Federal LE. That said most are hired at GL5 you are fortunate to be offered GL7

Where I am Bachelors and even Master Degrees are common for everyday working COs. GL8 is the highest you can go as an Officer that is competitive. All that said if you are well liked you can promote quickly into one of many ancillary or management roles

For Sep 22 2017 Remember theBOP is not looking for Rambo. They want people who demonstrate self confidence and an aura of authority but who at the same time can keep their emotions in check when dealing with inmates

They also want people who respect the need to follow orders policies and the chain of command. In other words a professional A special block for those in Corrections

Sworn personnel only please Oct 9 2007 BOP employees can carry off duty if they qualified each year on the range but must follow local carry laws as far as I know. They are considered Federal LEO but have limited arrest powers

They are covered under Federal LEO retirement Jun 2 2017 Hi I am currentBOP looking for information on a couple ICE announcements

Hoping to pick your brains Apr 3 2013 BOP has opportunities that while present at the state level provide for potential to move upward sometimes faster than in
