Jun 16 2023 The ing form in your example sentence is a present participle indicating something which is currently ongoing. So they have orders which currently arecoming fromall over the world

The come form would work too though it does not come with the implication that those orders are appearing now. It implies instead that generally orders do appearfromall over the world

Similarly with the Jul 20 2021 Do native speakers use present continuous when talking about timetables? Can I use quot iscoming quot in my sentence? That film comes iscomingto the local cinema next week. Do you want to see Jun 4 2016 I will becomingtomorrow

The act of coming here is taking a long timefromthe speaker writer s point of view. One example where this would apply is if by coming the speaker writer means the entire process of planning packing lining up travel and actually traveling for a vacation

I will come tomorrow Further to Peter s comprehensive answer Do you come here often? completes the question in a continuous form as opposed to the more obviously present Are youcoming? Do you come with me? is certainly archaic and if it was used today it would seem strange but at a guess it sounded comfortable for about 1 000 years until early Victorian dates Aug 19 2020 Comingvs

Going Ask Question Asked 5 years 4 months ago Modified 5 years 4 months ago Dec 31 2024 There are at least a couple of reasons why the year iscomingto an end is the idiomatic choice

Firstly an end better describes to the process or generality of something concluding rather than pointing to a specific singular conclusion Mar 16 2024 In that sense when you think about dropping someone off on your way home you would use coming and going based on whether the two of your are travelling to orfroma place May 28 2019 The word coming can also be used in several other senses not all of which would have a parallel or related form using comingup I mcomingup could also be used when the destination is on a hill but that would be significantly less common

The phrase comingup can also be sued to mean happening soon as in The Fourth of July is Feb 3 2018 Comes will come coming becomingAsk Question Asked 7 years 11 months ago Modified 4 years ago Jun 18 2016 Is there a difference in meaning and usage between the two sentences below? Both are happening in future A I m notcomingin for work today

B I will not becomingin for work today.
