Jun 29 2007 Our Esperanza s have been planted for over 3 years. For the 3rd year they grow up to 7 feet tall but won t start blooming slightly until late September and better as we get into October. This is while I watch all others start blooming in early spring and prolific through the summer

They re getting sun from about 10ish am until sundown Check out the largest plant identification database in the world. Read plant and insect reference guides at Daves Garden Check out the largest plant identification database in the world

Growers say it s a carefree no pest heat loving dependably blooming viny bush. Hardy for zones 8 and up this bush is such a crowd pleaser that some zone 7 gardeners say they ll try to overwinter it

I have a hot south facing spot in my yard where I might try it too Jul 5 2006 btw I took the softwood parts from the Esperanza for rooting

A few of the trimmed branches were a bit wilted before I even considered trying to root them so I got them in water asap and then selected the better looking ones and only took the soft tips from the ends of the branches Jun 24 2014 Those posts lists appear to be identical to each other I didn t see the plant I m asking about on it them Tecoma stans AKA Yellow Bells Esperanza etc

Just a mention of Koelreuteria paniculata AKA Golden Rain Tree. which is not the same plant by a long stretch. Thanks for trying to help though Welcome to the famous Dave s Garden website
