However questioning folks and allies are of course welcome too! Please keep posts and comments at least somewhat relevant to the furry fandom gender identity trans and non binary identity trans and non binary issues and questions etc Furrieshave a lot of subcultures just like any other group but for those who are not intofurries it s just easier for them to assumefurriesare weird at best and degenerates at worst.Furrieswho dress up in fur suits for events get flack for having sex with others in the suits even though that is rarely the case Furrieshave been fostering good publicity

Since conventions have been closed somefurrieshave started using stuff like VRChat to interact with otherfurriesand non furries. Those interactions can show that we are basically a giant club

The Furry Fandom is ever growing Furriesare a spectrum so evenfurriesthemselves have different opinions on when a furry is a furry
