In English usage should one use high school high school or highschool? Assume American English I understand that the Brits call it secondary school. Mar 24 2014 I ran an NGRAM of highschooler high schooler highschooler high school student and high school student. Click here to see the results

By far the preferred nomenclature was high school student. Highschooler was a distant third and high schooler barely mapped

This result was surprising given the rule of hyphenating compound adjectives but I guess that high school without a hyphen is a Mar 20 2009 Which one is better highschool high school or high school? Cheers El Pollo Nov 16 2016 But what was the complete sentence? Specifically what comes after school? I agree that if you are talking about the time when you were a high school student in high school or at high school is correct

That is course the most likely meaning. But many sentences could be concocted where a different preposition would be needed for example When I was still on high school property I Oct 20 2006 a. Where were you? I was at school. b

When I was in high school Stay in school implies don't drop out of school. Stay at school implies don't leave the campus Nov 3 2022 I never heard anything like that when I was in high school quite a few years ago

The two possibilities were saying someone was a freshman sophomore junior senior or they were in 9th 10th 11th 12th grade. With that there was never any need to talk about the number of years. Everyone knew which was which. My son is in 11th grade is a junior

Everyone knows that s the second to last year Mar 31 2007 Highschool with a Major in Science and Spanish Language Arts? College with a Major in Science and Spanish Language Arts?
