Nov 8 2015 We lived in Mesa last year and were served by the city's own gas company. We are moving to Chandler in a few months and the gas is through Southwest living in Phoenix right now and the place has no gas

I googled and did a forum search and didn't come across anything decent so I'm wondering if anyone has better first hand knowledge here. Assume both places are similar square footage and age Jan 18 2008 I got a bill for $556 this month. I'm stunned

I've never heard of such a thing on gas for goodness sakes. It's higher than my electric bill has ever been Jan 19 2007 Hello Phoenix We will have Southwest for our gas provider. She said our bill will range from $15 in the summer and $75 in the winter gas water Mar 20 2008 Everyone I know has complained about sky high gas bills. They show the average usage for one year right on the bill and for me it was 3 times higher Feb 4 2008 Please register to post and access all features of our very popular forum. It is free and quick

Over $68 000 in prizes has already been given out to active posters on our forum. Additional giveaways are planned. Detailed information about all U.S. cities counties and zip codes on our site City data Feb 6 2008 Originally Posted by isabella20948 How do I turn it off

What do I have to do? I lived in Florida for 18 years and never had gas everything was Sep 10 2015 Funny SW Gas is probably the only one of my utilities that I don't hate! Cox and Qwest Century Link vie for most hated

Have you talked to them? I'm actually more concerned about APS meters as they've been reconfigured for remote reading which in other cities has led to mysteriously inflated overfilling

Have you ever filed a complaint with the Corporation Commission and if so how did Nov 1 2014 For gas Casa Grande is served by Southwest Gas while San Tan Valley is served by the City of Mesa gas utility who purchased the former Magma utility

I think SW Gas might be slightly cheaper but I am not 100% sure. For water Casa Grande is served by Arizona Water Company Jun 1 2017 Additionally most Southwest Gas employees drive marked company vehicles and wear a company uniform with our logo

This morning I was rousted out of bed by the sounds of heavy equipment nobigdeal because I knew contractors for SWGas were doing work in my neighborhood

They were doing maintenance and replacing gas lines in the street Southwest
