Like her sister ship Bismarck Tirpitz was armed with a main battery of eight 38 centimetre 15 in guns in four twin turrets

After a series of wartime modifications she was 2000 tonnes heavier than Bismarck making her the heaviest battleship ever built by a European navy. The Tirpitz second and last battleship of the Bismarck class was the largest warship built in Germany.

She was commissioned on February 1941 and afterwards went to the Baltic to conduct sea trials. The Bismarck class battleship Tirpitz was commissioned in Feb 1941 and set sail for Norwegian waters in Jan 1942 after nearly a year of training operations in the Baltic Sea. About 10 minutes after the first bomb struck the Tirpitz had completely turned turtle with only the hull visible from the air.

Approximately 1000 of her crew were killed. Jan 5 2017 At 0842 Tirpitz was sighted by the torpedo planes which attacked in two waves one on each side of the ship.

The torpedoes appear to have been dropped at an excessively long range which enabled Tirpitz to comb the tracks turning sharply first to port and then to starboard. Tirpitz was the second Bismarck class battleship in the German Kriegsmarine, the sister ship of Bismarck named after Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz. In this powerful documentary we uncover the full story of the Tirpitz from her launch to her lonely death beneath the Arctic waters near Troms.

Why was she rarely seen in combat? Why did she?
