Jul 7 2015 The adverbial use of the definite noun themostsynonymous with the bare adverbialmostto modify an entire clause or predicate has been in use since at least the 1500s and is an integral part of English Feb 5 2013 Duringmostof history humans were too busy to think about thought

Why is mostof history correct in the above sentence? I could understand the difference between Mostof the people and Most Mostis what is called a determiner. A determiner is a word such as a number article personal pronoun that determines limits the meaning of a noun phrase

Some determiners can only be used with either a countable noun or an uncountable noun while others likemost can be used with both countable and uncountable nouns. Uncountable nouns usually take a singular verb. So in your Here most means a plurality .Mostdentists recommend Colgate toothpaste

Here it is ambiguous about whether there is a bare majority or a comfortable majority

From the 2nd Language Log link I searched on Google for the pattern most* percent and picked out of the first 150 hits all the examples like these I ve recently come across a novel called Amostwanted man after which being curious I found a TV episode called Amostunusual camera

Could someone shed some light on how to use amost and wh Oct 24 2016 Mostis defined by the attributes you apply to it. Mostof your time would imply more than half themosttime implies more than the rest in your stated set

Your time implies your total time where themosttime implies more than the rest

I think most leads to a great deal of ambiguity 1 If your question is about frequency in both the Corpus of Contemporary English and the British National Corpus there are three times as many records formostas for themost Apr 9 2015 Which one of the following sentences is themostcanonical? I knowmostvs themosthas been explained a lot but my doubts pertain specifically to which one to use at the end of a sentence. Do Welcome to themostwildest show on earth

Someone pointed out themostwildest and I was wondering if it was OK to usemostwith a word that ends in est together Apr 1 2022 Since mostof _____ is a prepositional phrase the correct usage would be mostof whom. The phrase mostof who should probably never be used

Another way to think about the difference between the subjective objective pronouns is to revise the sentence to include a personal pronoun and see which form he him or she her or they them fit.
