Ensuring that individuals impacted by facial differences and their family members from across the country have a place to turn for support is critical to the work of myFace. Founded in 1951, myFace formerly the National Foundation for Facial Reconstruction (NFFR) is a non-profit organization addressing the all-too-visible plight of those with facial differences by assuring them access to comprehensive and highly personalized care. Becoming partners in life after Joe's accident and face transplant is a profound testament to the power of true beauty and genuine attraction, reminding us all that a facial difference does not touch the heart or soul.
