Nobara is a derivative distro based on Fedora. It has the optimizations done by GloriousEggroll and it maintains even its own repositories. I have not tried it but because of GE my guess is this one is the most optimized for games

afaik it is not using an immutable filesystem so it is able to break

You rely on a very small team of maintainers so I don't consider this distro future proof Aug 4 2023 Gege killed off Nobara and utterly failed at conveying that well and providing proper closure. Nobara is coming back but fairly late in the game to the point where writing her into the story well would be a distinct challenge. Nobara will be confirmed dead later in some distinct way Feb 5 2024. When Nobara died Gege had a guy jump in just to deliver some exposition on how Nobara is dead but there is a tiny 1% chance she's not dead ok bye

Following literary law that must mean that moment is meaningful and will be relevant Jan 6 2023. The unofficial subreddit dedicated to discussion of GloriousEggrolls Nobara Linux distro based off of Fedora and designed to make gaming as a fast and simple as possible Dec 2 2023. We were starting to see Nobara's full potential in the last episode in the fight against Mahito

She actually could take him down along with Yuji if he hadn't run away like a coward to heal himself

I also feel she was left off guard when she saw Yuji and Mahito took advantage of the situation to take her down and further Yuji's pain May 30 2023. IMO Nobara is one of the most complete Fedora unofficial spins available

I've bounced around distros for years and while I test others Nobara is my daily driver and primary gaming OS. My game catalog consists of Steam and various Emulators. Currently running Nobara 37 Gnome as an Unraid VM with GPU pass-through

Near bare metal performance CachyOS vs Nobara is not new to Linux but I've always tried to switch but NVIDIA drivers are a pain

I've just gotten a new AMD card and I'm wondering whether I should use CachyOS or Nobara Fedora. I'm comfortable in both but I want one that will be stable and to not have to constantly tweak with things when they break Oct 28 2023. The unofficial subreddit dedicated to discussion of GloriousEggrolls Nobara Linux distro based off of Fedora and designed to make gaming as a fast and simple as possible Aug 26 2023. Nobara Project does offer stock GNOME along with a modified GNOME official and KDE Plasma versions

In my testing I found Nobara to be more stable than POP but each setup and use case is different Apr 24 2024. So Nobara is more of a standard Linux experience. Chimera is more of a console experience and Bazzite is a happy medium
