Oceans are thought to have formed in the Hadean eon and may have been the cause for the emergence of life

Plate tectonics post glacial rebound and sea level rise continually change the coastline and structure of the world ocean. Need assistance? Do you have a question about oceans, seas or oceanography that you can't find the answer to? Consider asking it at the Wikipedia reference desk. A map showing the five main oceans of the world

An ocean is a large body of water between continents. Oceans are extremely big and they join smaller seas together. Oceans or marine cover 70% of Earth. [1]

The borders of the oceans are the limits of Earth's oceanic waters. The definition and number of oceans can vary depending on the adopted criteria

The principal divisions in descending order of area of the five oceans are the Pacific Ocean, Atlantic Ocean, Indian Ocean, Southern Ocean and Arctic Ocean. Thermohaline circulation, Oceanography from Ancient Greek means ocean and graph writing, also known as oceanology, is a sea science, ocean science and marine science. It is the scientific study of the ocean, including its physics, chemistry, biology and geology.

It is an Earth science which covers a wide range of topics including ocean currents, waves, seas, and marginal seas. Marginal seas may be considered between oceans and land or between oceans in which case they may be treated as marginal parts of either

There is no ultimate authority on the matter. The Pacific Ocean is the largest and deepest of Earth's five oceanic divisions.

It extends from the Arctic Ocean in the north to the Southern Ocean or, depending on the definition, to Antarctica in the south and is bounded by the continents of Asia and Australia in the west and the Americas in the east.

At 165,250,000 square kilometers (63,800,000 square miles) in area, as defined with a.
