Which is grammatically correct? I can only do so much in this time. or I can do only so much in this time Apr 13 2017 This is why logicians use iff for if and only if. I think it would be useful in real life but can't see it catching on Sep 7 2010 Not only are there students in the room but also parents here the parents are there part is not quite required so you don't have to say but parents are also there because it's implied. Oct 24 2021 Which one is correct usage of 'only' and difference between the following sentences what is point of living if it is only a struggle

what is point of living if it only is a struggle Jan 5 2016 Generally speaking when you are referring back to yourself as a subject it were better to use myself instead of I or me I am only myself am mere mortal The only way to avoid ambiguity is to say We are getting only that printed and to emphasize that

When it's written where only is placed can eliminate or create ambiguity Mar 27 2020 You should put only before a verb phrase when either a the verb phrase is the focussed constituent of only or b when the verb phrase contains another constituent that is the focus of only

Words with a focus e.g. only even too also can go either immediately before their focussed constituent or before any constituent that contains it Dec 14 2015 Is the meaning of only that similar to unless? For example This does not mean that it is freely chosen in the sense of the autonomous individual only that there is popular agency in the The question asks for a general answer but gives only one special context

In general only and but only are not substitutable. *They but only work that way occasionally Closed 13 years ago

Possible Duplicate Correct position of only Should I use only before or after the pronoun? If only I had a chance If I only had a chance Both sentences bring a lot of results and both seem to be the name of songs. Are both correct? Is there a rule for similar sentences?.
