The string another is vanishingly rare in English. In contrast another is positively pervasive. I think it would be fair to say that the second has eclipsed the first to the point of making the first unacceptable even though it is a grammatical string

Both an and another are members of the category of determiners while other on the other hand is an adjective. There's no grammatical formula another = an + other. Think of it as of an article plus the word other that have historically merged into one word

Grammar requires some article before otherbook either the or a

Depending on the context you get either You need to buy the otherbook if for instance the guy bought only the first book out of the set of two or You need to buy an otherbook Oct 31 2016 Other other+ plural or uncountable nonspecific noun You can say If I had another five dollars I could afford it

Another method is One thing or another May 2 2015 3 The formal discourse marker used by the OP on the one hand on the other hand expresses two contrasting ideas opinions or facts

In view of this fact I suggest the following alternatives Although I like product A product B also appeals to me strongly

I like product A although product B is also appealing Perhaps though other equivalent phrases can highlight the difference in usage if you replace except for with with the exception of and other than with apart from Then we have
