Dec 29 2021 I have crazypeach fuzzalong my sideburns

Dermaplaning has definitely helped in absorption of product and appearance wise but my skin is so so so sensitive that it breaks out in pustules with the grow back even when I get the dermaplaning done by an aesthetician What??? Thats not true peach fuzzitspeach fuzz they wont grow sharper at all i shave my mustach area with an eyebrow shaving blade and i do it in my nose too and obviously my eyebrows they still grow soft like a normal face hair

Plus it helps remove a bit of dead skin and reducing the patchy cakey foundation. Reply reply Lost friend Ive got a lot of very fine blondepeach fuzzcovering my face

It makes me incredibly self conscious especially in the summer when its more likely to catch the sun and be noticeable Peach fuzz type hair often doesnt seem to grow that fast so you could probably stay on top of it easily enough but Id be sure you really want to

In many places and families theres little or no social pressure to remove this type of hair and it is one more thing youll feel required to keep up on Dec 18 2022 Laser wont work onpeach fuzzbetter off dermaplaning and not with those silly tinkle razors with safety blades hate those far superior ones that do a job well done Swann morten scalpel blade handle with 10R blades swear to gawdd cheaper then any other dermaplaning tool and a professional one at that My mom shavedpeach fuzzon her face when she was 17

She had to shave her face like a man for the rest of her life. It was her biggest regret and shame. I will never shave anything on my face. I wax my body hair and eyebrows

I just pluck the few chin hairs that I get. I don t even mess with thepeach fuzzbecause my fear is too great I dont have a lot of hair on my face just occasionally on my upper lip and on the sides of my face but I dont want to shave since I heard it makes it grow back thicker

I do want to get rid of it though because it makes my skincare and makeup go on more smoother and more flawlessly. What does everyone here use to get rid ofpeach fuzzon their face? Aug 24 2023 10 votes 30 comments
