Dec 31 2012 Using isn t it? as a general purpose tag question seems quite common in Asian Indian English

Standard English makestheverb inthetag matchthemain verb You didn t wait did you? There are quite a number of questions in ELU aboutthissort of tag Oct 11 2014 For 2 I hopetheintended answer is I hopethecake isn t burnt

Ifthecake were still being baked two acceptable answers would be I hopethecake won t burn or I hopethecake doesn t burn

But boththeoriginal form I hopethecake won t be burnt and I hopethecake isn t burnt don t make that assumption May 18 2012 I tend to think it isn t sounds a little more formal than it s not which sounds a bit more colloquial

I don t really have any solid reason for that though it just sounds feels that way to me Firstly have a look atthis source Now if you were to make contractions in these line you would write Is not she a fine creature? = Isn t she a fine creature? Has not she parts? = Hasn t she parts? Is not her beauty natural = Isn t her beauty natural Thiskind of usage is now archaic

According tothisusage you would simply write isn t she as is not she hasn t she as has not Aug 12 2014 That isthewoman who married Tony isn t it? That isthewoman who married Tony isn t she? Are both sentences correct? If they are what isthedifference in meaning? May 22 2016 Good question

I suspect it s mostly idiomatic with no hard and fast rules but your first example seems exceedingly rare. I can t think of any other cases wheretheis and not are split except questions oftheform Isn t <noun> <adj> Apr 20 2017 To be fair totheO.P

an Ngram shows there isn t seems to be preferred over there s not so there might be some merit totheassertion that one seems more awkward thantheother in certain situations

But I stand by my answer there are times when either would beg for improvement and other situations where either works just fine Apr 17 2015 Each of these sentences It looks like there isn t a free cam is there? and There is no free cam is there? are grammatically correct

You don t follow one negation with another. What you are trying to do here is make a statement and then try to look for someone to negate that statement

Hencethesingle negation policy May 7 2015 I wish to knowthedifference between ain t and isn t and since I m not a speaker of english as first language I can t
