800 grams removed from each breasts to become a B which is a huge amount and will not disproportionate to your body. The technique I recommend is The Bellesoma Method

This will reduce and reshape your breast tissue creating upper pole fullness without implants elevate them higher on the Questions about Breast Reduction and DDD to C cup with answers from board certified doctors

Get all of your questions answered on RealSelf Dec 29 2021 I spent the last 10 years debating on whether to get boobs or not and I am SO HAPPY I decided to do it! I went from a 34 B but really being an A with a Jul 21 2013 ADcup implies large breasts regardless of the frame

There's nothing wrong with that if that's the look that you want Apr 25 2014 It sounds as though your plastic surgeon is planning on that. To achieve a triple Dcup breast will require very large breast implants

You need to discuss this in detail with your plastic surgeon Jan 4 2010 Hi Vanessa A breast lift without reduction is unlikely to maintain its shape for the long term. Given the sheer weight of your breasts you would be prone to recurrent sagging

If you were willing to go smaller a breast reduction could provide you with a nice breast shape and longer lasting results. Hope this helps. Best of luck Aug 26 2013 AD or DD is very large for your frame and if you want to look natural then stick with the D. 375 to 400 will only make you a small D

Choosing the right implant is based upon your frame and base width of your breast. You cannot exceed the base width of your breast or risk the problem of symmastia Jul 10 2023 I am not a fan of making women DDD in size since those breasts are heavy and will sag over time

However an additional 150 200 cc's is about a cup increase when you are a D so 300 400 cc implants should make you up to DDD if you are actually a true D. Bras are not made to standard sizes and do vary especially with large cups Oct 15 2016 Answer I am 52 years old my breast size is 44 Triple D

My diaphragm will not open and close all the way and I am on oxygen now I don't think that a DDD size and you don't look that large in your photo would contribute to your respiratory difficulty
