Someone all the time is getting tired of feeding their pool and will put a heater on sale. Bob E Aug 19 2012 If the sun is out and it iswarm you even feel good getting out. For night swimming it seems that 88 90 feels more comfortable as you will get cold out of the water

The pool heated up to 92 during our last heat wave and was not refreshing at all during the day at night it was a dream! The predominant weather influence is thewarm moist Pacific air keeping temperatures mild throughout the year

Summers are dry and sunnys the city averages 329 days of sun per yearwith most of the precipitation occurring during the winter months Jan 25 2015 So you can see that if you don t use a solar cover the water won t bewarm

A bubble type solar cover should increase the water temperature by around 10 15F putting your June and October temperatures into the 77 83F range while your August peak could be in the 82 87F range May 18 2025 Please register to post and access all features of our very popular forum
