It s not formally Matrix as it doesn t use cards and coins dice whatever but in my standard Chink a Chink using brass weights after the first two moves I slide the remaining audience side weight to the center. Eliminates the crossed hands look that to me gives away what might be happening

It too leaves all four on the audience side of the table and the clean up happens well away The Magic Caf Visit us to discuss with others the wonderful world of magic and illusion After seeing other kids involved they usually want to be a part of the show

This mainly happens with the younger kids 5 6 year olds

Many times the child specifically asks for a magician and they ham it up making you see show so much more fun and enjoyable The Magic Caf Visit us to discuss with others the wonderful world of magic and illusion The Magic Caf Visit us to discuss with others the wonderful world of magic and illusion The magicians back is turned while this happens

There s no way the magician can see what card was selected but the magician can tell the name of the selection without touching the deck! Features You can use this deck just like any normal deck and it can be a great help in an extreme situation

That is the Stealth Deck The Magic Caf Visit us to discuss with others the wonderful world of magic and illusion The change in the Klaus version is also hidden out of sight and happens inside the performer's hand. Therefore in my opinion looks less magical because it s not nearly as visual

And of course the Cool Cash DVD is packed with a long list of proper credits I developed a Vegas style routine a while back using dice coins and cards. The three shell game was easily incorporated into this routine

I explain that although gambling is legal in Las Vegas there is one game that continues to be outlawed. The Three Shell Game. This is because of its reputation as a con game that no one can win The Magic Caf Visit us to discuss with others the wonderful world of magic and illusion.
